

BE A VOICE™ FOR TRUTH

"At 19, I had my first abortion. At 26, as a Christian who'd been celibate for two years, I got pregnant again during a one-time sexual encounter and had a second abortion. My life spiraled downward into promiscuity and anger until I rededicated my life to the Lord and asked for His forgiveness. But I didn't deal with the reality of my aborted children until, one day, I heard a 'Focus on the Family' broadcast in which the guest asked, 'When you look at your family portrait, is there someone missing?' That convicting question started the process of grieving and healing. God's mercy not only led me to repentance; it also helped me define my life's calling: to help women find healing after abortion, through the love of Christ."

The Lord wants women like Lillie to know the truth before they make a desperate, destructive choice. But He works through His people—people like you.
